

Andrew Jennison
Senior Director

Andrew Jennison is a Senior Director with Madison Partners, specializing in all aspects of office leasing and investment sales throughout Los Angeles. Mr. Jennison's expertise includes property valuations, lease analysis, strategic planning, cost reduction analysis and marketing. During his career, Mr. Jennison has leased more than 2.5 million square feet of office space and brokered investments sales exceeding $250 million in value.

Mr. Jennison has been with Madison Partners since its formation in 2004. Prior to joining Madison Partners, Mr. Jennison was a Senior Associate with Insignia/ESG, Inc., where he specialized in office leasing in the greater West Los Angeles area. Andrew began his career in commercial real estate brokerage in 1997 as an intern at Colliers International in their Downtown Los Angeles office.

Mr. Jennison received a Bachelor of Arts degree in International Relations with an emphasis in Business Administration from the University of Southern California in 1999. Mr. Jennison is involved in a number of volunteer organizations including serving as a mentor to undergraduate students with the Career Advantage Program in the Marshal School of Business at USC. He and his wife Julie currently reside in Hermosa Beach, California.