

Owen M. Fileti

Director

Owen M. Fileti joined Madison Partners in 2008 with five previous years of experience at Colliers International as Associate Vice President. Specializing in office properties, Mr. Fileti has an extensive background in client representation on behalf of numerous law firms, financial and wealth advisors, accounting firms and media related office users. The scope of Mr. Fileti's services ranges from strategic lease evaluation, occupancy cost reduction analysis, site selection, lease renegotiation, sales and comprehensive brokerage services. As a strategic partner with his clients, he aligns their business plans with effective real estate solutions.

As an active West Los Angeles community member, Owen participates in numerous local committees and organizations, such as the Board of Directors for the Century City Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles Commercial Real Estate Association and the Urban Land Institute.

Mr. Fileti received a Bachelor of Arts from Colgate University, where he was a three year letter winner for men's tennis. In addition, he attended the Instituto de Internacional in Madrid, Spain and he also completed the University of Michigan's Global Business Institute program. He currently resides in Manhattan Beach.